

Janet Yale leads a national team responsible for all aspects of TELUS' corporate affairs, including public policy, regulation, government relations, law, corporate governance, and corporate communications.

With more than 20 years of government, regulatory and sales experience, Janet has held senior leadership positions in the public, private and not-for-profit sectors. Prior to joining TELUS, she served as president and CEO of the Canadian Cable Television Association. Called to the Ontario Bar in 1983, Janet holds Bachelor degrees in arts and law, a Masters in Economics and, in 2004, became a certified Director through the ICD-Rotman School of Business Director's Education Program.

As an active member of the Ottawa community, she serves on the Boards of Ashbury College, Ottawa Centre for Research and Innovation (OCRI), Great Canadian Theatre Company, the Ottawa Hospital, the Information Technology Association of Canada (ITAC), as well as national organizations that include the Council for Business and the Arts in Canada and the Canadian Film Centre. She also currently Chairs the Board of Directors of United Way/Centraide Ottawa and the organizing committee for the National Arts Centre Fall Gala.

Janet was awarded the Queen's Golden Jubilee Medal in 2002 and has been honoured by Canadian Women in Communications as "Woman of the Year". She was named to the WXN – Women's Executive Network list of Canada's Most Powerful Women – Top 100 in 2004 and 2005.

A keen runner, Janet and her husband Dan Logue have two teenage boys.